P R E F A C E .

A SHORT Memoir of our firm (now rapidly nearing the Centenary of its existence) has appeared in previous Editions of this book.

We wish only to repeat here, that “by “reducing price wherever possible, and by “constant strain after improvement, we aspire
“to lead the van in honourable competition.”

We rely upon the good quality of our productions as their own best advertisement, and require prompt payment in all transactions ;
SMALL PROFITS demanding

QUICK RETURNS.

INTRODUCTION.

WE have received thousands of satisfactory acknowledgments which stamp our manufactures with the Hall-mark of our customers' approval. One esteemed friend writes from N. S. Wales: "I have for thirty years availed myself of Spencer's Masonic Agency, and have never had a fault to find or complaint to make." The Secretary of Lodge 202 writes: "I can strongly recommend your goods for duration and quality." The District G. Master of Auckland writes: "Every article you have furnished to my order has given every satisfaction, both as to price and quality." The Dist. G. Master of Japan, writes: "The difference in appearance after two or three years' wear is fifty per cent. in favour of Spencer's things over other firms." Bro. Sole, of Cheltenham, writes: "Not only is the quality excellent, but I notice a superior finish and completeness in your work which frequently is wanting in that of other establishments." The Lodges of some Provinces have joined in sending us letters of kindly approbation. Appreciation in distant Colonies is evinced by testimonials from Lodges, which we insert together with the few other extracts that our space here admits.

A. J. M. Pickering, Stockton-on-Tees.

“ April 15, 1884.

“ Your goods continue to give every satisfaction.”

J. W. H. Fisher, Ripley.

“ April 5, 1884.

“ The box with contents is safely to hand, and I beg to say merits my hearty approval.”

A. J. Cholerton, Swadlincote.

“ April 5, 1884.

“ The items sent are very satisfactory.”

J. C. Hedges, Abertillery.

“ March 11, 1884.

“ The Apron and Jewel give every satisfaction.”

L. Fred Dunsterville, Madras.

“ March 10, 1884.

“ Our new Banner safely arrived. I congratulate you: it is quite a work of art.”

A. S. M. Barter, Guernsey.

“ March 6, 1884.

“ Great satisfaction both for quality and appearance.”

A. C. Henley, Woolston.

“ February 24, 1884.

“ I am very pleased with the quality, and the moderate price has surprised many of the Brethren.”

J. J. W. Cornish, Plymouth.

“ February 15, 1884.

“ The P.M. Jewel gives entire satisfaction.”

M. Samuel Harvey, Devonport.

"February 14, 1884.

"The Brethren are very well pleased with the Mark clothing and Jewels."

J. J. Swan, P.M., Petersfield.

"February 12, 1884.

"The P.M. Jewels (two) gave universal satisfaction to the Brethren."

A. Harold Wyatt, P.M., &c., Bootle.

"February 11, 1884.

"I have had nearly all my clothing from you and find them wear better than the Lodge clothing."

A. W. Colenso, P.M., Wolverhampton.

"February 10, 1884.

"The Aprons are very satisfactory."

P. J. H. Bentham, P.G. Deacon, Northumberland.

"January 31, 1884.

"The workmanship of the P.G.L. clothing is excellent. It has given me great satisfaction, and has been much admired."

"The goods have given great satisfaction."

R. Major J. G. Fairtlough, R.A., Ontario.

"January 19, 1884.

"The R.A. Regalia is far ahead of any of the rubbish they make here. The local manufacture of all Masonic clothing savours too strongly of Good Templars, Young Britons, Knights of Pythias, &c., not cheap and decidedly nasty. It would have amused you to see the difference between one of your common R.C. suits costing here, with 30 per cent. duty and carriage, 15 dols., and a Toronto one costing 20 dols. and no duty."

A. James Wright, Monte Video.

"January 16, 1884.

"I received the box (p. Steamer) all correct, and we are all very much pleased with your prompt dispatch. The aprons, &c., gave every satisfaction."

J. John Porter, P.M., &c., Burmah.

"January 14, 1884.

"I received the Jewels, &c., in excellent order, and I am perfectly pleased with them."

L. J. B. Atkins, P.M., Barbadoes.

"January 8, 1884.

"The Mosaic Pavement is greatly admired, and the price is considered reasonable."

J. H. Richardson, Asst. P.G. Sec., Derbyshire.

"December 31, 1883.

"I am very much pleased with the clothing you sent me."

J. Geo. A. Allcott, P.M., &c., Chinkiang.

"December 26, 1883.

"The clothing has given great satisfaction, particularly the P.M. Jewel, which is admired by all, who agree that it is a splendid piece of workmanship."

P. Wm. Naylor, Prov. G. Sec., Derbyshire.

"December 17, 1883.

"The Prov. G. Chaplain's clothing has given great satisfaction."

J. H. Banks, Maryport.

"December 16, 1883.

"I am much pleased with the Regalia."

A. D. H. Dunning, W.M., 637, Stoke-on-Trent.

"October 9, 1875.

"A magnificent set of Masonic Jewels and Regalia was presented to Mr. Dunbar, Q.C. The Past Grand Master's chain collar is of gold, beautifully engraved and chased, formed of broad open-work links of oblong form, alternating with pointed stars, each link containing a monogram of the initials of the Grand Lodge of Quebec. The Jewel is a gem of artistic workmanship, made of solid polished gold, and represents the compass extended to 45 degrees, with the segment of a circle at the points. There are also blue satin gauntlets profusely embroidered in the richest gold lace, having the insignia worked in bold relief on the front. The apron is the most gorgeous worn by any Masonic officer; it is ornamented with the blazing sun, embroidered in gold in the centre; on the edging the pomegranate and lotus, with the seven-eared wheat in each corner and on the fall, with fringe of gold bullion. The whole Regalia came from the renowned Masonic furnishers, Messrs. Spencer and Co., Great Queen Street, London."

PART I.

THE DEGREE OF MASTER MASON.

By Bro. Spencer, F.R.G.S., formerly Member of the International Congress of Orientalists.

From the Aprons borne by the guardian figures at the tomb of the Egyptian Monarch of the First Dynasty, RASMENTETI-HEM, through those of other ages and lands described by Dr. Oliver in "Signs and Symbols," there have been alterations sufficient to warrant a Darwinian Chapter on evolution and survival of the fittest.

The Apron of a modern Master Mason is represented on Plate 1 (which shows in addition the central Badge of the wearer's rank and Lodge, described on page 44). Of handsome durable materials, it can be produced at fair profit for 15s. (No. 1.)

By using ribbon whose surface only is of silk, an ordinary lambskin, and tassels made by apprentice hands, it can be produced for 12s. 6d. (No. 2.)

These are the standards adopted; but slight difference in their appearance being perceptible. See Introduction, Testimonials marked A; amongst others Bro. Saville, Lodge 1231, says, They are better than those we have been getting from other firms, at nearly double the price. Bro. Preece, of Ledbury, says, I have compared your Aprons with those supplied by others and your price is less for goods of the same quality. Bro. Powell, Lodge 875, says, I still wear one of your Aprons bought in 1848.

For connoisseurs in select goods, we produce another and superfine quality, distinguished by emblems in centre of the rosettes and by double tassels. (No. 3.) See Testimonials, Bro. Glessel, of Whitehaven, says, Your superfine M.M. Apron is a gem.

No. 1.	15	0
No. 2.	12	6
No. 3.	Superfine	17	6
No. 4.	Also superfine, dyed specially to resist climatic influences					20	0

We have devoted great attention to textile fabrics and to the perfection of dyes used in producing colours for the varieties of Masonic clothing.

In making up Aprons, materials have to be most carefully measured, corners mitred to a nicety, by skilled fingers, under an educated eye. The best Apron-work demands a superior class of workers; as a rule, neither dressmakers nor tailors can turn out good Aprons, the style of work being dissimilar.

The details of the Master Masons' Apron are prescribed by the Book of Constitutions.

It would be difficult to invent a more tasteful badge, composed of symmetrical parallel lines, angles, and points within circles, coloured and toned by sky-blue borders and gleams of silver, upon a pure white ground. The symbolical application of these symbols will ever be present in the mind of the Master Mason.

For superior Aprons we are in the habit of using prepared kidskin instead of lambskin; it is lighter, of closer grain, and has a natural polish. It is more expensive, and its use has, we believe, become almost restricted to our house. In planning the square for each Apron out of the skins, care is needed to avoid flaws and the dark streak sometimes found over the backbone of the animal. To hide these imperfections dealers are in the habit of supplying highly calendered goods, most objectionable in wear. The dressing, in a short time, will fall off in powder, chalking the clothes as though engaged in operative instead of speculative Masonry. Such Aprons, when sold, appear as smooth as mirrors; but after folding and wearing, deep ruts and cracks betray where the dressing has flown off like a shower of lime.

“Felix quem faciunt aliena pericula cautum.”

THE WAISTBANDS of the Apron are usually made of ribbon $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide. Woven elastic bands were formerly in general use for this purpose. We have for some time discouraged them for their lack of durability, and their unpleasant property of oxidising metals with which they may be in contact.

The most efficient waistband is that fastened with a link and lengthened, at the wearer's pleasure, by a slide.

Even in these adjuncts a great difference in quality may be discerned. In details of the sort we regard it as most unwise to practice a "penny wisdom," which detected inferiority would prove to be "pound foolishness."

ROSETTES are a study per se, the name of the manufacturer being discernible from a glance at the article. The styles most in vogue are Nos. 1 and 2. No. 1 is made of $\frac{1}{2}$ inch satin ribbon disposed in fluted circles round the centre. This looks effective, but is soon soiled and very apt to fray. No. 2, durable and substantial, made of thick one inch ribbon carefully fluted. This will last in good condition as long as the Apron itself.

Their distance from the border at sides and base of the Apron should be half an inch, and they should be adjusted with accuracy.

All kinds of BUTTONS have been used for their centres. We give the preference to the plain blue. Bright spangled or silver basket-buttons as centres, are apt to convey an impression of tawdriness which mars the general effect. Less objectionable is the  in white, upon the button, though it remains an open question whether this be not out of place; the centre of the rosette being simply intended to represent a point within a circle, and embellishment leading to redundancy of symbols which are not needed for further illustration.

TASSEL-MAKING is a delicate manipulation carried on generally by women. Tassel-heads are a separate branch, being joined to the spiral strands when ready. Numerous patterns are in vogue, made of a combination of twisted wires and spangles.

We produce the ordinary tassels (No. 1) wholesale at 15s. per dozen pair; superior qualities from 17s. per dozen pair, upwards. (See Plate on next page.) Rosettes, tassels, and buttons are made by us to order in very great variety.

Very handsome are the chain tassels of solid silver (No. 2) which we frequently supply, price £2 5s., or durably plated 15s. the pair; silver tassels of scallop-shell (No. 3) pattern are made from 25s. per pair; (No. 4) silver tassels, struck from a die "en bloc," ~~7s.~~ 6d. per pair; plated struck tassels, 2s. 6d. per pair. (From Oliver's Signs and Symbols.)

APRONS OF OFFICE.

Many Lodges have the emblem of office, with or without the name of the Lodge surrounding it, embroidered on the Apron of each officer; the set of Aprons, with Gauntlets to match, being the property of the Lodge. Sometimes the W.M. and Wardens only, sometimes all the officers, are thus provided. The effect is good, and the symbol of each office forced on the attention of candidates. (See the Apron on Plate 1.)

In addition to the price of the Apron, stated on p. 38, these Emblems are supplied as follows:—

No. 1.	Emblem in a circle bearing the	s. d.
	name and number of the Lodge,
	silver embroidery. (See Plate 1)...	12	6
	Or second quality	9	6
No. 2.	The same, without name and

„ 3.	Same, extra silver fringe, the pair	42	0
	Or second quality	30	0

Gauntlets for temporary use, or for special occasions, made of silk and satin, at 8s. the pair.

OFFICERS' COLLARS

Are supplied in assorted sizes, it being evident that all the officers of a Lodge would not have the same measurement; at the same time we are careful to make even the smallest of a size available, bearing in mind Mr. Weller's axiom that "width and wisdom" go together. They are made in three qualities, besides that of fast-coloured ribbon intended for use in the tropics.

No. 1.	The best, with silver button and	s.	d.
	cord, lined	10	6
	The same, not lined	8	6
„ 2.	Second quality	7	6
„ 3.	Third quality	5	6
„ 4.	Best, fast colour, for the tropics ...	11	6

If trimmed with silver braid or lace, 5s. or 9s. extra; plated braid or lace, 2s. 6d. or 4s. extra.

Officers of Lodges are entitled, if they please, to wear a handsome linked CHAIN-COLLAR of

LODGES OF INSTRUCTION.

We are now supplying Collars, with silver button and cord for above, at 5s. each.

Jewels at 5s. 6d. each.

Gauntlet, at silver, over blue ribbon. We supply this in silver for ~~£5~~; the emblem of the 3rd Degree alternates thereon with knots (Lacs d'Amour) and the Lodge monogram. In the "Bank of England" Lodge is one, presented for the W.M. by Bro. Spencer.

APRON CASES

May be had either limp or stiff. That recommended is stoutly made, covered with roan leather, with scarlet lining, deep gussets, and a pocket to hold the certificate or other documents. Bro. Richard Spencer laid claim to its invention in 1825. Many kinds of lock or fastening have been tried, and the simplest is found to be the best.

We make them in three qualities :—

- | | |
|---|-------|
| No. 1. Asdescribed, with a simple efficient | |
| hasp, 3s. 6d. ; or lettered with | s. d. |
| names of owner and Lodge ... | 5—0 |
| „ 2. Second quality, with a gilt catch | |
| lock, price 3s. ; or lettered ... | 4—6 |
| „ 3. The same, fastened with an elastic | |
| band, price 2s. 6d. ; or lettered... | 4—0 |

We also supply various other patterns, i.e., to open entirely, with flaps and strings at the sides, or with flaps and buckles, or with the flap at the side instead of at the top, &c.

Any of the foregoing can be had also of fine yellow Russia, or of coloured Morocco leather. Price 7s. 6d., first quality ; 5s. 6d., second quality.

N.B.—Clothing, Jewels, &c., for the IRISH AND SCOTCH CONSTITUTIONS are supplied to order at short notice.

See Introduction, Testimonials from No. 316 Irish, and from St. Andrew Kilwinning, Scotch, Lodges.

JEWELS OF OFFICE.

The patterns of these are taken from the plates in the Book of Constitutions.

The price of each Jewel in silver, varies from 16s. to 27s. 6d., according to its respective size and weight. Taken one with another they are—

		s.	d.
No. 1.	Of sterling silver, hall-marked, each	22	0
„ 2.	Of electro-plate, well finished „	10	6
„ 3.	Ditto second quality „	8	6

W.M.'s and P.M.'s Jewels may be had, studded throughout their surfaces with cut crystals, set in silver. These look very brilliant; their prices rise from 42s.

THE JEWEL OF THE IMMEDIATE P.M.

Should match in size and pattern from the collar.

16s. in silver, hall-marked, according to weight and workmanship. One, $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches across, silver, hall-marked, costs 16s., or, if with ribbon and bars suitable for the breast, 21s. Other sizes cost up to 35s. The pattern of all, is that shown in the Book of Constitutions; variety being permissible in the superficial engraving or chasing only.

It is a question whether the Masonic Square should ever be made to resemble the Carpenter's Square, but it is seen on some patterns which follow.

All the designs of Jewels which follow are full size.

the gavel. A canopy overhead is always appropriate, the All-Seeing Eye, the Sun, or the flaming Star being pictured on its face.

MODELS OF THE COLUMNS J and B may be erected at the door within the Lodge Room. The handsomest pair ever supplied were made by us for the Freemasons' Hall, Auckland, N.Z. They are of burnished brass reduced in size every way two-thirds from the originals of King Solomon, described in Kings I., 7 ; Chronicles II., 3, and in the Lectures. The Chapters are richly gilt, modelled to the specification given in the Scripture, surrounded with 7 nets of chequer-work and wreaths of chain-work. Round about them hang 2 rows each of 100 pomegranates. They are surmounted by the terrestrial and celestial globes. The total height is rather over 6 feet. They are shown on the Tracing-Board of the 2nd degree and form splendid ornaments, which add point to the references in certain portions of the ceremonies. Price £100 0 0

A pair, similar but rather less elaborate in workmanship can be supplied for £70 0 0

A set of the BEST CARVED CHAIRS, of well-seasoned oak or mahogany (with columns at the back for supporters, their capitals and the emblems of brass), covered with velvet or Morocco leather, as supplied to Lord Ferrers for the Ferrers and Ivanhoe Lodge (See Design No. 1), height 5 feet 9 inches, seat 2 feet 6 inches. THE FLOORCLOTH.—Ordinary oilcloth is not made to represent the plainly-chequered pavement required in the Lodge Room, hence we have been accustomed to have the same painted by hand. These oil-paintings sometimes get damaged on a long voyage, notwithstanding the care used in packing. We, therefore, recommend felt-carpeting, printed the correct pattern, which can be had to any size, at 4s. the square yard. We keep in stock the following sizes:—6 × 4 yards; 5 × 3½ yards; 5 × 4 yards; 4½ × 3½ yards. No charge for making up.

Any other size can be made up to order in a few days.

The same can, however, be painted on canvas, to any size—say 5 × 4 yards £9 10 0

PROVINCIAL OR DISTRICT, AND PAST PROVINCIAL OR DISTRICT GRAND OFFICERS' CLOTHING.

FULL DRESS

Consists of an Apron trimmed with gold lace and fringe, embroidered in gold with the emblem of office encircled with the name of the Province; a Collar trimmed with gold lace only; and Gauntlets trimmed and embroidered to match the Apron. (See Plate XII.)

The Colours of the Ribbons supplied by us for Officers of the Grand Lodge of England and of Provinces and Districts have been determined by personal consultation with Sir Albert Woods, Garter King-at-Arms, the Grand Director of Ceremonies. (See Testimonials marked P.) Amongst others the Prov. G. Sec. of Northumberland says, you supplied complete dress outfit in 1872, it will last my lifetime and then be thoroughly good; the Prov. G. Treasurer of Devonshire says, quality and workmanship are of the very best; Bro. Charles W. Wyndham says, I can show the suit you made for me in 1865, which has been worn ever since; Bro. Adams, of St. Heliers, says, my Provincial Costume I can show with any, altho' I have had it since 1848 from your place.

These are made in two qualities: the best being of superior material, with double gold fringe.

CASES FOR PROVINCIAL COSTUME

Are made of wood, leather, or japanned tin. The most convenient are those which contain the Apron folded once, lengthwise, upon which are laid the Collar and Gauntlets.

A wooden box, covered with Morocco, with lock, lined, size about $17 \times 8 \times 3$, is supplied for £0 18 6

Do. do. $16 \times 7 \times 1\frac{3}{4}$ 0 17 6

The same, of size about $10 \times 6\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in., lined with leather and velvet, and with pockets under the lid to contain jewels £1 11 6

A flat roan case, with catch lock, size $16 \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in., expanding to 2 in., price 8s. 6d. or 10s. 6d.; can be made to hold jewels and costume.

The air-tight case of japanned tin is preferable, keeping its contents in the best preservation :

The name, &c., can be painted or gilded upon these, at the rate of 2d. or 3d. per letter.

Plenty of clean tissue paper should be kept with and round the costume.

PROVINCIAL AND DISTRICT GRAND MASTERS

Are habited with an APRON of most elaborate description, a CHAIN COLLAR—(See Plate XIV.)—JEWEL, and GAUNTLETS.

The Apron is bordered with pomegranates and lotus flowers in heavy gold embroidery, having the emblem of office encircled by a wreath in the centre, and is trimmed with rich bullion fringe. It is strengthened in places to bear the weight. The embroidery on the Apron of Lord Leigh, P.G.M. of Warwickshire, supplied by our house, has had more than thirty years wear, and is in good preservation.

N.B.—No white kid or lambskin appears in the flap, either of this or of the Aprons which are provided by the Grand Lodge for the use of Grand Officers during their term of office.

OUTFITS FOR PROVINCIAL AND DISTRICT GRAND LODGES

Are supplied in two qualities. A number of suits being made at once, the prices noted for Provincial Clothing, &c., are proportionately reduced. A complete outfit (in the case of the D.G. Lodge of Gibraltar) has been supplied within six days from receipt of order. For the D.G. Lodge of Northern China, we supplied one on special terms, made of materials best calculated to withstand climatic heat and moisture; for that of Tasmania—one, which proved highly satisfactory,—for a given sum, without previous estimate. See Introduction, Testimonials marked D.

For BANNERS, see page 67.

THE CLOTHING OF GRAND OFFICERS AND OF PAST GRAND OFFICERS.

Garter blue, correct shade, approved by Sir Albert Woods
Garter, Grand D.C.

A suit is provided for wear by the Grand Lodge, only during the term of office, and may not be removed from the precincts of the Hall except by the Grand Tyler. The clothing is the same for Grand Officers past and present; it consists of Apron, Collar, and Gauntlets, all richly embroidered and trimmed in gold, price £10 10 0

Or, with double gold fringe 12 0 0

Second quality 6 6 0

These are best preserved in a japanned airtight case, $18\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$, price 22s.; or lined, 35s.

It is customary to have also for common use

AN UNDRESS SUIT,

Consisting of Apron, trimmed with three and a-half inch ribbon, with embroidered emblem, &c., without lace or fringe, and Collar, price £2 8s., or, £3 3s.

The JEWEL is provided by the Grand Lodge, for use in Grand Lodge only; but we have a set, and are always pleased to lend a jewel for the term of a Grand Officer's tenure of office.

THE ROYAL ARCH DEGREE.

Revised by a Past Grand Officer of the Supreme Grand Chapter.

The clothing of this, the complement of the 3rd Degree, is very attractive. It is shown in the Plate opposite. Crimson and blue arranged lozenge-wise and indented, are adorned with golden ornaments, i.e., the tassels and the triple-taus. We have seen the ⌞⌟ made of solid metal, like a Jewel, sewn on. This is incorrect; the Regulations distinctly order it to be embroidered.

See Introduction, Testimonials marked R. Amongst others, W. Pearse of Malta says:—I have now in wear, R.A. clothing purchased at your establishment over 30 years since, and some clothing I bought of you 14 years ago.

THE FURNITURE OF A ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER.

The appointments of an assembly intended to represent the great Sanhedrim at Jerusalem, should be carefully designed to agree with the sublime Ritual, combining to produce an harmonious and impressive scenic effect. Unless the details have been intelligently studied by the designer, incongruities may become apparent to the candidate, calculated to mar the effect of the scientific and divine lessons thereby illustrated. See Introduction, Testimonials marked C. Amongst others, the Scribe E. of Chapter 1661, says, The Companions of other Chapters never saw one furnished as ours is ; many Chapters send us special letters of thanks.

For new Chapters we supply COMPLETE SETS OF FURNITURE in two qualities, as hereunder enumerated:—

Museum Depot 26, Great Queen Street, London.

Masonic Depot, 26, Great Queen Street, London.

The plan opposite shows the arrangement of a Chapter, approved by the Duke of Sussex whilst Grand Z. The description and quality of each item will be found in the price list which follows hereon.

The FLOOR-CLOTH.—The site for the Pedestal is placed nearer to the Principals' throne than is shown in the plan, and the chequered pavement points to it from all sides in diminishing perspective, giving an idea of greater distance, 10 ft. \times 6 ft. price £4 4s.; or, 10 ft. \times 5 ft., £3 3s. The proportion borne by the length to the breadth of the room, should determine these dimensions.

The ALTAR OR PEDESTAL, enamelled white (representing "pure virgin marble")—the doubled cube—(made hollow, with a door behind), with a top of burnished brass on which circle and triangle are engraved; certain characters being incised and gilt upon the front or face of the plinth: size 32 in. \times 16 in. £3 0 0

The same with gilt top, and movable brass circle and triangle. Characters on plinth gilt and not incised: size 28 in. \times 14 in. £2 5 0

The VEIL, of white silk, with bullion fringe and tassels £1 1 0

Or of white satin, with gilt tassels... .. 0 10 6

The Roman and Hebrew Letters for the top (18 in number), loose, of burnished brass, the set £0 16 6

N.B.—Care should be taken to have the Hebrew characters correct, and to see that none are missing, ere the ceremony begin.

The 5 STANDARDS and 12 ENSIGNS OR BANNERS, well painted on coloured silks, trimmed with fringe, cord and tassels, mounted on oaken or mahogany poles, with iron stands, brass spear heads and finials £31 10 0

Or second quality 21 0 0

One of the Standards, white and gold, displays the mystic geometrical symbol of the Degree: the four others denote the four divisions of the army of Israel under the emblems of Lion, Man, Ox, and Eagle, upon crimson, scarlet, green, and bright green, colours respectively.

The colours of the Ensigns of the Tribes and their several devices are as under :—

Judah	crimson	a lion and sceptre.
Issachar	sky-blue	an ass "crouching down between two burdens."
Zebulon	purple	a ship.
Reuben	scarlet	an agitated surface of water.
Simeon }	yellow	a sword and dagger (instru- ments of cruelty).
Levi }
Gad	white	a troop of horsemen.
Ephraim	green	an ox.
Manasseh	flesh colour	a vine by a well.
Benjamin	green	a ravening wolf.
Dan	bright green	a horse throwing his rider ; a serpent hanging to the fetlock.
Asher	purple	a golden cup.
Naphtali	blue	a "hind let loose."

No hard-and-fast rule has been laid down for the shape of the Ensigns, which are seen in use either oblong, forked, swallow-tail, or of various shield-shapes. The name of the tribe may be displayed over its special device.

The annexed designs are pleasing, but the effect will be mainly due to good colours and correct drawing, failure in which may mar the best intentions.

The THREE LARGE CANDLESTICKS of classic pattern, carved and fluted, mahogany or oak, with brass sconces, capitals either gilt or of antique bronze, according to quality and design,

The OFFICERS' JEWELS, at 8s. 6d., 10s. 6d., 21s., or 25s., are described on page 79.

SECOND QUALITY.

The PRINCIPALS' ROBES may be heavy and voluminous, of brocade or velvet. The colours are scarlet, purple, and light blue, as specified in the Ritual.

Of good silk, trimmed with fur, their price is £16 16 0

As convenience must be studied for the performance (without avoidable fatigue) of ceremonies which are sometimes long and onerous, we make them usually lighter, of merino, handsome and ample enough.

Faced with silks and trimmed with fur, the set £9 9 0

Or faced with less silk, with braid trimming, the set £6 0 0

The SCEPTRES. Set of 3. Length, 3 feet. Carved, gilt and trimmed with coloured velvet. With Hebrew motto on the mitre. In box, fitted £3 10 0

Or the set, smaller and lighter. Length, 2 feet 6 inches £2 12 0

Or smallest size, length 19 inches... £2 2 0

Or, carved in polished oak or mahogany. Length 3 feet, without box £2 0 0

N.B.—Where no head-dress is used, there ought to be an inscription on the base of the Mitre on J.'s sceptre.

The PICKAXE, CROWBAR, AND SHOVEL are usually supplied in oak or mahogany, stoutly made and polished, the set £1 11 6

The shapes of these have hardly varied from time immemorial. We have sometimes supplied them in brass of ornamental pattern, handsomely engraved £4 4 0

Handsome SWORD with gilt guard, &c., and gilt
TROWEL £2 2 0

Common sword of antique shape, and plated
trowel £0 15 0

The inscribed SCROLL of vellum or parchment is supplied for 7s. 6d., or highly illuminated, for £1 1 0

N.B.—A printed scroll, a too absurd anachronism, has been seen in use.

The LIFELINES, set of 3 for 5s., or 0 7 6

The SQUARE AND COMPASSES, in a neat case, silver gilt, £2 15s.; or well gilt ... £1 5 0

The ROBES worn by the SOJOURNERS and Scribes, resembling white surplices, are supplied for... .. each, 15s., or £1 1 0

The ordinary SWORD of the Janitor for 12s. 6d.
or... .. £0 15 0

The BIBLE, in 4to. size, bound in Morocco, with emblems and inscription gilt on the cover,
costs £2 2s., or smaller, £1 1s.; the CUSHION of Crimson velvet, trimmed with cord and tassels, according to size and quality, 15s., 21s., or £1 10 0

In many Chapters the Principals wear appropriate head-dresses, and one of them also wears the Breast-plate of Judgment.

We annex an engraving of the vestments of the High Priest of the Jews according to the best authorities.

We have had reason to vary the patterns of the head-dresses from those formerly in use. We hold, for instance, that the High Priest's should not be similar to that of the prelates of Christian churches, but should be the turban mounted on an encircling plate of gold (on which is inscribed, "Holiness to the Lord"), as here represented.

The cost of the so-called MITRE or turban, CIRCLET or coronet, and CROWN or diadem, for the priest, prophet, and king, is £7 7s. or £10 10s.

The price of the BREASTPLATE is £2 15s. or £6 6s.

BALLOT BOXES are supplied as for the Lodge.
See page 64.

It was formerly the custom in Royal Arch Chapters to illustrate the Lecture by means of a model, representing a catenarian arch, from which the three chief stones in the crown could be abstracted one by one. The arch sprang from a tessellated pavement and surmounted a pedestal or altar. This may still be seen in Chapters working in the south of England. We have had one made to pattern, and can supply it for £2 10 0

Splendid CANOPIES for the Dais, can be estimated for, or supplied to a given price.

A WARDROBE CASE, fitted with cupboard, lockers, and drawers, to contain the furniture of a Chapter, costs from £4 10 0

The book containing the SCRIPTURE EXTRACTS AND PRAYERS is published at 4s.

PART II.

SKETCH OF SOME OTHER DEGREES OF FREEMASONRY,

THE EQUIPMENTS AND CLOTHING FOR WHICH ARE HEREINAFTER DESCRIBED.

*Denn was man Schwarz auf Weiss besitzt
Kann man getrost nach Hause tragen.*

GOETHE.

Freemasonry, according to our Grand Lodge of England, consists of the three Craft Degrees and the Royal Arch only. There are, however, independent bodies conferring other Degrees which illustrate further various subjects in Masonic archæological and historical connection. These bodies are the Grand Lodge of Mark Master Masons, the Order of Knights Templar, the Council of the Allied Masonic Degrees, the "Ancient and Accepted" Rite, and the Order of Rome and Constantine.

Mark Master Masons commemorate and perpetuate the practice of our operative predecessors, who adopted distinctive marks, or cyphers, numbers of which are found recorded upon the stones of ancient buildings throughout the world, by which their respective handiwork was known. The Degree is said to have formed part of that of our Fellow Craft, and was once nearly being incorporated therewith by a vote of our Grand Lodge. It is now conferred on Master Masons. The ceremony is very interesting, and the Degree highly esteemed.

The Allied Masonic Degrees, and those of the Royal and Super-excellent Masters follow in order on that of Mark Master and are worked under warrants originally derived from the U.S.A. where they have flourished for some time. The meetings are held at the offices of the Grand Lodge of Mark Master Masons.

The United, Religious and Military Order of the Temple and of St. John (to which only Master Masons of two years' standing, who have taken the Royal Arch Degree, are eligible) is a revival or continuation of the Order which was suppressed by the Pope, A.D. 1313, to which the Knighthood of Malta has been attached. The ceremonial of admission is impressive and remarkable. Its Grand Master is H.R.H. the Prince of Wales.

The Ancient and Accepted Rite has its headquarters at the Masonic Hall, 33, Golden Square, London. Under its system, Masonry is divided into thirty-three Degrees, symbolic, religious, and philosophic. It recognises the exclusive right of our Grand Lodge to confer the first three. It confers Nos. 4 to 17 by communication in part only, so that any approved Master Mason can be admitted to the 18th, or Rose Croix Degree—which ceremony is given in full. After three years, approved applicants may attain to the 30th Degree, Nos. 19 to 29 being given by communication. The governing body is styled the Supreme Council. Its objects are to promote scientific and archæologic Freemasonry, to encourage and develop Masonic charity. It has an unique Masonic Library and Museum.

The Masonic and Military Order of Knights of Rome and the Red Cross of Constantine professes to have been founded by the said Emperor, after his adoption of Christianity and in consequence of the vision which determined his conversion. It is of recent establishment, and some of its ceremonies would seem to be a rechauffé from other Orders herein described.

It will thus be seen that the innumerable degrees of historic, chivalric, and mystic Freemasonry, which flourished during the latter half of the last century in this country and on the Continent, have under these several organisations, crystallized into order and method. Some of them may possibly substantiate claims to antiquity, whilst some betray their origin in the fertile brains of speculators like Chevalier Ramsay, Dr. Starck, Baron Von Hunde, &c., and have been, so to speak, foisted on to Freemasonry.

Other Societies, like fireworks, more or less ephemeral, have arisen, from time to time; of these, the Oriental Order of the Sat B'hai or Rite of Apex, is already extinct. The Rites of Memphis, of Mizraim, and Swedenborg, confer a great number of degrees. Some of them being in rivalry or opposition to others already established, are debarred from the general Masonic communion of independent degrees. We are unable to say which of them possess genuine Masonic pretensions, or whether they are to be classed in the category of the Noble Order of Corks.

It is instructive to remark how much "the fitness of things" has to do with the effect of Ritual. The quality of the Jewellery and decorations manufactured for Good Templars, Odd Fellows, and Ancient Buffalos, is unsuited for Masonic and Chivalric ceremonial.

THE MARK MASTER MASON.

Revised by a Past Grand Officer.

This degree not having been incorporated in the revised system of 1813, by the United Grand Lodge of Freemasons of England, the Members formed an independent body under a separate Grand Lodge of their own.

See Introduction, Testimonials marked M, with thanks of Mark Lodges, &c.

The APRON of the “Kebraoth,” or Companions of the Mark, resembles that of a Master Mason; the tassels, however, being omitted, the ribbon edged with crimson, and the clothing lined with the same.

that may be chosen for his mark. Purchasers should look narrowly that the Hebrew characters on the reverse (which are the initial letters of certain Hebrew words) correspond in drawing with those delineated in the Book of Constitutions, p. 28. In Hebrew, we read from right to left, and in the Advancement ceremony the reading of these initials begins with the letter Kheth. They have a further esoteric interpretation known to Installed Masters only. In the ceremony of Installation the reading begins with another letter.

In cornelian and silver, the JEWEL costs, 15s.

The same, in mother-of-pearl ... £0 10 6

In cornelian, ornamented with gold, £1 5s.,
£1 15s. or £3 3 0

or of 18 carat gold £1 1s. It may be made to open to hold portraits like a locket, cost £2 10s., and besides being worn as a Jewel may form a tasteful appendage to the watchguard.

The Jewel is suspended from a ribbon of same colours as the Apron. Grand and Prov. G. Officers should have the ribbon of purple and crimson, and the mounts gilded.

The COLLAR of an Officer, of stout 4 inch ribbon, costs 10s. 6d. or £0 7 6

An OFFICER'S JEWEL (the Lodge set) has the emblem of office displayed on a silver plate representing a keystone, and is worn pendant from the Collar. Price, best plated £0 10 6

Or, silver, hall marked £1 10s. or 2 0 0

The JEWEL of a P.M. has the keystone suspended from a square; size, $2\frac{1}{8}$ inches across, of silver gilt, suitably engraved, £1 7s. 6d.; of 9 carat gold, £4; of 18 carat gold ... £6 0 0
And for larger sizes in proportion.

FURNITURE.

The Lodge is arranged as for the 2nd Degree, but has three small Pedestals, each with a chair, placed to correspond with the three angles of a triangle, in the middle of the room; these are for the Overseers. The larger pedestals for the W.M. and his Wardens are generally borrowed from a Master Mason's Lodge that meets in the same Hall, the prices of which will be found on page 62.

For new Lodges, sets of Furniture are offered in two qualities, as here enumerated :—

ENGLAND, &c.

Membership is restricted to Royal Arch Masons who are Master Masons of two years' standing. It is essentially Christian and Trinitarian, the ceremonies solemn and devotional; it has for many a singular fascination perhaps associated with the clang of arms and the echoes of a bygone chivalry. Numerous military men, some of them distinguished and of exalted rank are active members;—a living protest against Romish persecution—like a Phoenix rising from the funeral pyres of Jacques de Molay and his brethren.

The habit of the Companions consists of a white mantle, white tunic, leathern belt and a sword; the Insignia, of a sash worn over the right shoulder, a star and a cross upon the breast. The Mantle should be long and flowing, bearing the Red Cross of the Order, 9 in. long, upon the left shoulder, and having a hood pendant behind. The tunic (the distinguishing garb of the Crusader) should descend below the knee. It bears, displayed down the whole length of the front, the passion cross in red. The crosses on Mantle and tunic should be of red cloth or flannel, but crimson silk is in more general use. (See Plate.)

See Introduction, Testimonials marked T.

The Mantle of a Knight Companion costs
25s. or £1 11 6

The Tunic 20s. or 1 5 0

The Swordbelt, regulation, black Morocco 0 7 0

Or superior 0 10 6

The Sword, straight, cross-hilted, with black hilt and scabbard 21s. or £1 5 0

The height of the wearer, his breadth across the chest, and his girth round the loins, should be stated on ordering these goods.

Various patterns of swordbelt have been supplied, more or less resembling the antique types, with and without rings and chains, or of broad tanned leather with large buckle and pendent thong. The "regulation pattern" has been found the most convenient.

The broad black Sash or Riband of watered silk, fringed, and with silver button and cord, may be had in two qualities, price 10s. or ... £0 15 0

The silver Star, its rays cut into facets, bearing a motto of the Order and the red passion-cross on white enamel, is made in two sizes (more than twice and thrice the size here shown), hall-

marked, £1 1s. 6d. or £1 10 0

The Cross of the Order, or Cross patent, in red enamel on gilt metal, costs 12s. 6d.; in silver gilt, £1 1s. 0d.; or in 18 carat gold, £3 3s. 0d. It is worn hanging from a red ribbon having white edges, called the Syrian ribbon.

The suit is best preserved in an air-tight CASE, which is made of size for the purpose, with plain handle and lock, price, from ... £0 15 0

On the owner attaining rank as Eminent Commander of a Preceptory, the white hood of the mantle should be lined with red and its badge altered; the sash may have gold fringed ends; the hilt and guard of sword and mounts of scabbard should be gilt: extra cost for mantle, 12s. 6d.; for sash, 4s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.; for sword, 8s. 6d. or £0 10 6

The enamelled DOUBLE CROSS (with collar) of a Commander, costs, gilt, £1 1s.; silver gilt, £1 16s.; gold, from £3 3 0

Past Commanders may have a circle or oval which bears the name of the Preceptory laid over the cross, price of the complete Jewel, silver gilt, £2 5s.; or of 18 carat gold suitable for presentation £7 10 0

Collars and Jewels of office may be worn by the officers of a Preceptory. The COLLARS of Syrian ribbon cost, each £0 6 0

The PRECEPTORY JEWELS OF OFFICE, beautifully enamelled, being of various official devices differing widely in quantity of metal and workmanship, are of various prices, but average, in gilt, 20s. each. They follow the patterns given in the Statutes of the Convent General.

Each Knight may have his banner displayed in the Preceptory, emblazoned with armorial bearings: the price of one, size 30 × 21 inches, well painted on silk, mounted on pole and stand, with silken fringes, cords and tassels, varies from £3 10s. to £5, according to the intricacy of the device, or if embroidered and trimmed in the handsomest style possible, from £5 5s. to £8 8s.

N.B.—The banner of a Companion must be of swallow-tail shape; that of a Commander, a parallelogram.

We make suits of ecclesiastical or monastic pattern for Companions who are in Holy Orders, and for Chaplains or Prelates, consisting of mantle, cassock and broad belt £5 10 0

Also COVES, of approved pattern, price 5 5 0

A Knight's Ring of Profession is made of 18 carat gold. It has the enamelled Templars' Cross pivotted to turn round and display a cornelian or onyx, engraved with the arms or crest of the owner in intaglio. The initials V.D.S.A. are enamelled on the gold round the finger. Price £2 12 6 or £4 10 0

The engraving costs extra.

Size round finger should be stated.

GAUNTLETS, of black silk, embroidered with red velvet and gold lace, are sometimes worn by officers of the Temple ... per pair £1 7 6

The CAP, of black velvet, antique shape, embroidered. (Size should be stated.) ... £1 1 0

PRIORS OF PROVINCES may have the Arms of their Province embroidered on the Shield of the Order, on the Mantle, at a cost of £1; and on the Gauntlets, if desired, for 1 10 0

FURNITURE OF A PRECEPTORY.

Each Preceptory represents a Guard to the Temple of Our Lord, of which the Order has, from the date of its institution, been the champion. The banners are posted behind the throne of the eminent Commander who is seated opposite the head of the sepulchre. The banners of the Companions are ranged behind their respective stalls. Any oblong table, 5 to 7 feet long by $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide, will do to represent the Sepulchre. Upon and around it are arranged the various articles used during the ceremonies.

We supply the complete outfit of a Preceptory, comprising—Cover of the sepulchre, the 3 larger and 9 lesser lights on stand, the three emblems, the crucifix, the cube with inclosed stone, the helmet, breastplate, shield, sword and spurs, the pilgrim's habit, hat, wallet, bottle and staff, 2 plated goblets and dish, the skull, the Bible, the Commander's bâton, the habit of the servitor, the Beauçéant and Vexillum, together with 3 dozen small cubes and the set of 5 books, viz., Declaration, Signature, Minute, Treasurer's and Receipt for £30 0 0

THE MASONIC ORDER OF THE KNIGHTS OF ROME AND OF THE RED CROSS OF CONSTANTINE

Is not favoured with so much support as is accorded to those already described. This may be due to accusations of irresponsible calumniators who assert that new orders with "high falutin" Rituals, are instituted for the purpose of encouraging the supply of jewellery and regalia.

It confers a subsidiary Knighthood of the Holy Sepulchre and St. John (which should not be confounded with the Knighthood of St. John of Jerusalem, Palestine, Rhodes, and Malta, conferred under the auspices of the Order of the Temple), decorated with a Black Cross Potent or Jerusalem Cross; and offers an ascent through a variety of grades and offices, each of which demands a change of decorations, or additional insignia. We subjoin the list of requisites. The prevalent colours are purple and gold. Most of the insignia embody the Cross Patonce, charged with the letters I.H.S.V.; eagles, crowns, &c., being added to mark accessions and gradations of rank.

THE ROSICRUCIAN SOCIETY.

BY FRATER "VITAM IMPENDERE VERO,"

Consists of 9 degrees, the 9th being that of the Chief or Supreme Magus. The Frater V.I.V., who possesses valuable Rosicrucian books and MSS., entered this attractively-named Society, under a real enthusiast, probably the only one within its ranks. In London he was nominated to the 8th Degree; but found there that no Ritual had then been concocted beyond that of Initiation, and that the proceedings emulated their prototype of the Middle Ages only in being a profound and unintelligible mystery. They have nothing ROSICRUCIAN—except the name.

The Medal, enamelled, silver gilt, costs 15s., or gilt £0 12 6

IMPROVED COAT-PROTECTING JEWEL ATTACHERS

Are made of cloth, shaped so as to cover the left breast of the coat, in order that where numerous Jewels are worn they may be affixed to the Coat-protector and save the coat. A narrow band goes up under the coat collar and fastens to one of the coat buttons of the right side. The Coat-protector itself is attachable to buttons on the left side. Price £0 7 6

If made with pockets to slip the Jewels into, when the protector is taken off, 6d. per pocket extra.

ODE

ON THE INSTALLATION OF
THE PRINCE OF WALES,

AS MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER,

AT THE ALBERT HALL, 28TH APRIL, 1875.

BY BROTHER SPENCER, P.M., Bank of England Lodge,
&c., &c.

Remotest Past hath left its prints sublime ;
 Its ruined Temples everywhere remain,
 Admonishing through change of place and time
 By monuments not thus bequeathed in vain,
 That all things here must suffer change—save TRUTH.
 Like sand by sand, Earth's crust is worn away,
 For continent and ocean change, as youth,
 Changes to age, as night succeeds to-day.

Review the vanished empires of our earth
 Which budded, ripened—and then faded out
 Until, down-trodden in a wintry dearth,
 Their very names become the sport of doubt !
 Reckon the leaders who have toiled and wrought
 To leave their marks on hist'ry's page—in vain ;
 Whose cherished visions have been brought to nought ;
 Whose praises never can be sung again !

Think of the great thoughts that have flashed to light,*
 Thoughts to inspire the coming time and mind,
 Whose authors rest neglected, in the night
 Which gave a brighter dawn unto mankind !
 Even religion—see how changed at last
 The creeds that millions cherished in the past !

Is there a science whose perennial youth
 Enshrines a living everlasting Truth ?
 Is there a ray beaming through hist'ry's night
 Which emanated from the primal Light,
 Revealing antient symbols, that reflect
 The fiat of the world's Great Architect ?

Yes ! Nature's Truths extending through the Past
 As through the Present, shame man's changeeful tale ;
 And antient landmarks, founded hard and fast,
 Those primal Truths in graven symbols veil.
 Our allegory claims them for its own,
 Echoing a voice which, laden with their lore
 Through ages gone, repeats in earnest tone
 Their solemn formulæ for evermore
 And teaches Masons, an immortal lot
 In " Universal Charity " to found,
 Whose centre may be struck at every spot
 And whose circumference no space can bound.

Those Truths, to us in allegory told,
 With Light in the beginning had their birth ;
 The banded wisdom of the wise of old
 Memorial altars reared upon the earth.

And ever with the Sun, that from the East
 Will to'ards the West its living radiance shed,
 The sacred flame to glow has never ceased
 Which for our use departed Brethren fed
 That we might tend it in our turn : the while
 They numbered years in stone on Carnac's bed,
 Recorded seasons on Stonhenge's pile,
 Or named the stars from off the Pyramid.

* For this apostrophe the Author is indebted to "Bailey's Festus."

We work by the inexorable laws
 Which the great Cosmos owns for rule of right,
 Nor waste our strength upon the quips and flaws
 Over which some dispute and bigots fight !
 We gaze up at the canopies of stone
 That from the ground aspire to reach the skies,
 And (claiming antient Mason's Art our own
 By which our spiritual temples rise)
 Acknowledging a great Ideal divine
 Embodied thus by Masons' toil and sighs
 Feel, that the altars which those fanes enshrine
 Are hallowed by the Truths we symbolise !

FREEMASONS work for love unto the Art,
 Not for the hire alone to serve the Lord ;
 Infusing fervour into every part
 Which grows an earnest of our rich reward.
 For at the last, our earthly labours done—
 If worthy, the Great Architect's commands
 Will raise up each, a proved and perfect stone
 Into a Temple builded not with hands.

And here—the heirs unto the men of old
 Will emulate their fervency and zeal ;
 Joining in courses of symmetric mould
 To strengthen and adorn the commonweal.
 Though Roman Pontiffs ban the Mason's light
 Nor brook the Level laid upon the priest,
 Here may the FREE of every creed unite
 Where one rule tries the greatest and the least

The SONS OF TOLERANCE assemble here,
 Christians or Jews, Parsees or Mussulmen.
 The same great Architect we all revere
 With those of yore, bonded by Truth as then.
 Under our PRINCE a living dome we build,
 The polished keystone of whose crown is he ;
 And each, for ever in the Temple filled,
 The Masons'-word seals thrice :—
